Letter: Penang 'bribed' Motorola to stay

Beh Lih Yi | Mar 2, 08 1:46pm

Highly-confidential correspondence confirms that the Penang state government had asked the federal government to offer a RM1 billion project to Motorola in a desperate attempt to stop the American telecommunications giant from pulling out of the state.

If this wasn't done, the Gerakan-led state government warned Prime Minister Abdullah Ahmad Badawi that its "catastrophic impact" would be "politically very detrimental" especially in the run-up to the general elections on March 8.

The three-page letter, signed by outgoing Penang chief minister Dr Koh Tsu Koon, was addressed to Abdullah and dated Dec 3 last year. Malaysiakini has seen a copy of the letter.

According to the letter, the government would offer a RM1 billion project to Motorola involving the upgrading of the police force's radio network in exchange for the multinational staying put in Penang and pump in an additional investment of RM350 million over the next five years.

Motorola, which has a manufacturing facility at Penang's Bayan Lepas Industrial Zone, announced its RM350 million investment in the state on Tuesday.

The stunning revelation comes as the opposition intensifies its attacks on the Gerakan state government over its poor performance in reviving the island's economy.

Koh, who appeared to be on the defensive, has repeatedly denied such claims.

The state's sluggish economy has topped voters' concern and is likely to be an influential factor when votes are cast on Saturday.

In the letter to Abdullah, Koh - who is also Gerakan acting president - began by stating that he was "very concerned" over disclosures that Motorola was on the verge of announcing that they would be "pulling out their entire operations in Malaysia".

Koh however stressed that Motorola's pending decision "was not a threat for a bigger and new contract" but a "necessary business strategic response" to the perceived lack of support from the Malaysian government.

The government had earlier decided not to extend Motorola's contract to supply and expand the existing radio network of the police force and the project - dubbed the Government Integrated Radio Network - had been given to another consortium.

Three 'dire consequences'

The letter further stated that Abdullah had earlier promised Motorola executives during a meeting in February last year that the company would continue its work on expanding and upgrading the police's radio network, which has been put in place by the American giant in 1992.

Koh, in the letter, went on at length to impress on Abdullah the importance of Motorola continuing to invest in the state. This included the company setting up its worldwide headquarters in Penang for certain products. Read on at: www.jeffooi.com
